Bucks County's Historic Golden Pheasant Inn Reopens

This charming inn listed on the National Register of Historic Places closed in January 2012 when husband-and-wife owners Michel and Barbara Faure turned the property over to their three daughters. Renovations included a true top-to-bottom restoration, including everything from windows and lighting to refinishing the pumpkin pine floors. En suite bathrooms were added to all rooms. All restorations were done to carefully ensure the integrity of the historic property and to appeal to the growing meeting market in Bucks County. goldenpheasant.com

Marriott Courtyard Philadelphia Lansdale Set to Open in Spring

The new Marriott Courtyard Philadelphia Lansdale is set to open this June. The six-floor property offers 125 rooms, plus 10 suites. The seven meeting rooms are perfect for any professional gathering, and the fitness center, pool and whirlpool ensure everyone stays refreshed and energized. marriott.com

Kalahari Resorts Pocono Mountains to Open in 2015 in Pocono Manor

The Pocono Mountains will have another reason to celebrate summer when the new Kalahari Resort arrives. The $230 million, 150-acre resort with a 100,000-square-foot indoor/outdoor waterpark is set to be completed in summer of 2015. The first of the two phases will include convention and meeting space alongside flexible function space throughout the indoor and outdoor waterparks and entertainment center. kalahariresorts.com

The Inn at Pocono Manor Updated with Meetings in Mind

The Inn at Pocono Manor is listed on the National Register of Historic Places, but it's not resting on any laurels. The historic main lodge, which opened to travelers in 1903 and remains one of the longest, continuously operating properties in the Northeast, completed a $5 million renovation last year. Renovations touched both public and private spaces, with a particular focus on meeting rooms. poconomanor.com
